Honorable Charles GARRETT, Sheriff of Hancock County, Mississippi, Appellee. No. 43787. Supreme Court of Mississippi. November 7, 1971. A.H. Sapp, Gulfport, for appellant. R.E. Lee Chatham, Calhoun City, for appellee. Before GILLESPIE, INZER and BROOM, JJ. *39 GILLESPIE, Justice: This is an appeal by the City of Gulf Branch from a decree of the chancery court of the First Judicial District of the State of Mississippi directing the appellant to issue a copy of an ordinance to the appellee sheriff for service upon the appellant as a defendant in a civil action which appellee has filed in the court below. It is alleged further that the city manager notified an officer of the Mississippi Game and Fisheries Commission of its intention to enact an ordinance forbidding wild game to be killed within the city limits. It is alleged that the appellant city council has refused to issue copies of the city ordinance to the appellee sheriff and has refused to issue a copy to the appellee for service. The prayer of the appellee is for an injunction against appellant to require the issuance of the copy of the ordinance to the appellee for service, for a writ of mandamus to require the issuance of the copy of the ordinance, or, if that relief is denied, for damages in the amount of ten cents per copy of the ordinance. When the appellant filed its answer the sheriff was not served with process. On motion of the appellant the court made an order directing the sheriff to serve process on the appellant by placing a copy of the ordinance in the hands of the chief executive of the appellant.
